Subject of Disclosure:

Change in Foreign Ownership Restriction from no limit to 40%

Background/Description of the Disclosure:

SPC Power Corporation (the "Corporation"), is engaged in the business of power generation. Pursuant to RA no. 9136 (EPIRA Law), power generation is not a public utility operation. As such, no foreign ownership limitation was required.

Upon engaging in the business of renewable energy, the Corporation, though not involved in a public utility operation, has to comply with the Implementing Rules and Regulations of RA 9513 (Renewable Energy Act of 2008) (the "IRR"). The IRR previously provided that companies engaged in the exploration, development and utilization of renewable resources are subject to the 40% foreign equity limitation.

Recently however, (1) the Department of Justice Opinion dated September 29, 2022 opined that exploration, development and utilization of solar, wind, hydro ocean and tidal energy should not be subject to the 40% foreign equity limitation under Section 2 of Article XII of the Constitution and (2) the Department of Energy amended the Implementing Rules and Regulations of the Renewable Energy Act of 2008 to be consistent with the DOJ opinion.

While the IRR of the RE Act has been amended to state that the exploration, development, and utilization of solar, wind, hydro, ocean and tidal energy are not subject to any limitation on foreign equity, SPC is subject to the 40% foreign ownership limitation given that its AOI allows it to own land. The laws on landownership and acquisition in the Philippines limits the same to Filipino citizens or Filipino corporations only.
